FRIDAY, OCTOBER 27, 1916.

WOODROW WILSON.

SATURDAY IS WILSON DAY

And President Wilson will on that day send a message to his countrymen, a proclamation of new freedom, to be read in every county, city, town and hamlet.

Republicans, Progressives, and Democrats, men of all parties and of no party, owe a lasting debt of gratitude to President Wilson. He has kept us out of war, he has given us prosperity such as the country has never known before, he has preserved our honor and maintained friendly relations with those across the seas in whose veins flows kindred blood. Show your patriotism Saturday, Oct. 28, by displaying American flags and bunting in homes and business places.

Ohio is for President Wilson, about that there is not a shadow of doubt.

Col. Roosevelt began the task of putting the republican party out of business in 1912 and is now finishing the job.

During the past two weeks there has been a strong swing to President Wilson and indications now point to his re-election by the largest popular vote ever given a president of the United States.

Among the many prominent men of the country who have swung into line for President Wilson during the past few days are Andrew Carnegie and Ohio C. Barber, the Akron match manufacturer and most extensive scientific farmer in the state.

Remember, Mr. Voter, that unless you vote for the electors under President Wilson's name, your vote will not count. It is the electors who elect the president, and voting for Wilson is simply in the way of instructions to them. Keep this fact before you when you go to the booth to vote. If you are not voting a straight ticket, put an X mark in front of the name of every elector and of every other man for whom you would vote.

A WILSON LANDSLIDE

It ought not to be merely a Wilson victory at the polls in November. It ought to be a Wilson landslide.

That would be the greatest political blessing that the American people could confer upon themselves.

A Wilson landslide would completely destroy the influence of the hyphen in American politics, and once for all put American citizenship above all foreign intrigue and alien sympathy.

To Europe it would be a final proof of American solidarity which would carry its effect into all the diplomatic relations of the United States with the warring nations.

It would definitely establish progressivism as a forward policy of American Government, beyond the power of Toryism and reaction to overcome.

It would mark the beginning of a new economic order in which human rights were no longer held subordinate to property rights, and the labor of living men of less consequence than the accumulated product of the labor of dead men.

It was Jefferson who put the ship of state on the democratic track in the nineteenth century, and made possible a government of the people, by the people and for the people. Wilson is rendering the same kind of service to American democracy in the twentieth century that Jefferson rendered in the nineteenth century. Regardless of any mistakes he makes, regardless of errors of judgment, he is restoring American democracy and giving government back into the hands of the people to promote the welfare of all the people, not the welfare of a few of the people.

American democracy, if it is to go forward, cannot permit anybody to undo what has been done under President Wilson's leadership. It cannot afford to give any man the opportunity to do it. It can take no risks with Bourgeoisism. It can make no experiments with reaction.

The highest duty the American people owe to themselves, to their principles of government and to their ideals of the Republic is to give to the President a popular majority that will be overwhelming.

Make it a Wilson landslide!

THE IDENTITY OF BLACK AND WHITE

Pof, Frank Jewett Mather, Jr., the accomplished professor of art and archaeology at Princeton, has been an ardent pro-Ally since the beginning of the war. Like Major George Haven Putnam, he is going to vote for Mr. Hughes. The professional German-Americans are faithful to the same Comdrum. They even imagine that they forced his nomination. The Staats-Zeitung, the Hexamers, and the Koebles are bitter against Mr. Wilson because he has been too stern to Germany, too resolute to maintain American rights against her. The extreme pro-Allyes are against Mr. Wilson because he hasn't been stern enough to Germany and hasn't been resolute enough to maintain American rights against her. Thus we get the curious spectacle of the German patriots who would put an embargo on munitions, who would warn Americans of armed belligerent ships, who exulted over or defended the Lusitania massacre, hand in hand with Germanophobes, who would like to see, or would have liked to see, the United States at war with Germany. Men who detest and men who palliate the invasion of Belgium and the succeeding genocides of German warfare are united in support of Mr. Hughes.

The student of political psychology will find no thornier problem than this. Starting from diametrically opposite premises German and anti-German reach the same conclusion. They oppose Mr. Wilson and favor Mr. Hughes for exactly opposite reasons or unreasons. Mr. Wilson has been too neutral, he hasn't been neutral enough. Mr. Hughes will be more tender than Mr. Wilson to Germany. Mr. Hughes will be more severe to Germany than Mr. Wilson.

As to Mr. Wilson, his damnation by the extremists of both factions is ample evidence to moderate men that he "has kept his rudder true" to a straight American course. Mr. Hughes's ambiguities, his shiftness, his vague, colorless generalities, his combination of vain hypothesis, are ample evidence of an eye single to votes, a studied purpose not to offend, a determination not to lose his friends in both camps. Either the pro-German or the pro-Ally extremists, or both, are being ruled. That is his game. He plays it with the carefulness to be expected of a 100 per cent. candidate. But the hallucination of his pro-German and anti-German admirers is a marvel.—N. Y. Times.

WILL VOTE FOR WILSON

E. S. Loomis, a teacher of mathematics in the West High School has declared for Wilson. Among the reasons for his decision are the following:

The basic laws and constructive legislation of the past four years, viz: the Clayton act, the child labor law, the workmen's compensation act, the eight-hour law, the federal reserve banking law, the rural credit and farmer's mortgage law show President Wilson's ability to help the masses.

Roosevelt is for Hughes and absolutism.

Wall-st jingoism is for Hughes and war.

Penrose, Smoot, Redney and the other bosses opposed to the Progressive party four years ago are no better as leaders today than they were then.

Those of the Guggenheim stamp are urging the poor man to leave his wife and children, his farm or his workshop to put on a uniform and take part in a war of others' 3000 miles away.

President Emeritus Eliot of Harvard, Thomas Edison, Henry Ford, Jane Addams and other humanitarian leaders will support Wilson.

Wilson is the right man, in the right place, at the right time.

I am for Wilson now for the same reason my father was for Lincoln in 1864. He is "safe, sane and sensible."—Ravenna Democrat.

ADAMSON ACT OF BENEFIT TO ALL

The employers and employees submitted their differences to the President for adjustment. He offered a compromise which the employees accepted, and the employers, under Wall Street pressure, rejected. The country faced a crisis worse than war. The congressional action of the Adamson law was the only solution.

If no trains had moved, no factories would have operated. Inhabited cities would have been unable to secure food. All business would have come to a standstill. Riot and bloodshed with untold disorder and revolution might have followed.

To the farmer this act is of especial importance. He could not have sold his crops or his fat live stock, because he could not have delivered to a market. Counting on the income received from immediate sales, and not getting it because of the general tieup, he would have suffered irretrievable loss and possible bankruptcy.

President Wilson understood all these things. Understanding, he acted, and moved to save his country from disaster. By his foresight and vision and by his decision prosperity and peace have been continued.

USE OF MONEY IS THE ISSUE NOW

Ohio is won for President Wilson. Every class of citizenship is for the continuance of peace and prosperity. As a prominent eastern newspaper man said: "The only issue the reactionaries who oppose Wilson now have in Ohio is the use of money."

It has leaked out that on Tuesday, last the Republican strategy board planned to raise a fund of $600,000 in Ohio. Of this, $200,000 is to come from Cleveland, where already a large corruption fund has been raised and expended. The effort to use of money is to split the labor vote by the purchase of supposed leaders who are for sale. No attention is to be paid to the corrupt practices act. If the election can be bought those who buy it will escape punishment by controlling the machinery of the law. Those men of money who contribute to the fund will be taking their own chances.

We do not believe that the vote of labor is for sale, but it is well for every laboring man watch carefully those who approach him and see that he may not be placed under suspicion.

More important than the election of any candidate, no matter how worthy he may be, is the continuance of honesty in elections which has been established in this state by constitutional amendment and legislative action in recent years.

SALEM

Mrs. Mary A. Phillips, wife of M. L. Phillips, died Tuesday morning of cancer of the breast. She had been bed-fast since January. Deceased was born 58 years ago near Smith's Corners, Mahoning county, and spent much of her life in the vicinity of Alliance. She came with her husband from Massillon to this city last December. Besides her husband she leaves two sisters and one brother—Mrs. Eli Crum of Smith's Corners, Mrs. G. W. Dehoff and Wm. Bauman of West Ashtown. Funeral services will be held at the home Thursday afternoon in charge of Rev. Lee Ames. Interment in the Alliance cemetery.

The Freedom Oil Co. will spend $12,000 here providing storage tanks, bulldozers and motor trucks for making deliveries.

Joseph Weaver, a well known resident of the city, died early Tuesday morning, aged 67. Funeral services Thursday afternoon with burial in Hope cemetery.

No bets are being overlooked by either party in efforts to carry the county on election day.

During the past year dogs in this county killed sheep valued at $3000. Shortage of coal is being felt by several of the big manufacturing establishments in the city.

Mrs. Morris Umstead died last week in the city hospital following an attack of pneumonia and the rupturing of a blood vessel in the brain. Deceased was born in Goshen township 52 years ago, a daughter of Wesley Hinchman who still resides in Goshen. She was a woman held in high esteem by all who knew her. Besides her husband and five children she is survived by her father and one sister. Funeral services Saturday afternoon from the Hinchman home were conducted by Rev. Lee Ames of the Baptist church, and interment was made in Grandview cemetery.

Perry grangers will observe the golden anniversary of the founding of the Patrons of Husbandry, Wednesday evening, Nov. 15. A special program will be prepared.

The enrollment of the city schools is 1857—944 boys and 913 girls. Of this number 353 are in the high school—149 boys and 203 girls.

Mr. and Mrs. Isaac Weaver, both 71 years old, celebrated the fiftieth anniversary of their wedding Saturday at their home southeast of Winona, with 80 of their relatives and friends present to enjoy the festivities of the occasion.

The chamber of commerce is still reaching out for new industries. Workers at the pottery have been given substantial increase in pay, due to the great prosperity in the pottery business.

Leslie Cobbs has purchased the Hanna Bros. merchants' delivery business.

Night school opened in the city Monday evening.

While Kenneth Russell was carrying his little sister Betty last Friday so that her feet would not get muddy he tripped and fell and the little girl had the large bone of her left leg broken below the knee.

Deane Kliner has succeeded R. W. Hawley as editor of the News, the daily going to East Liverpool as editor of the Tribune. Both are talented young men.

Hallowe'en will be celebrated next Tuesday night. There will be a parade and a general merry-making.

Voters appear to be so well satisfied with present conditions that there is little political campaign excitement.

Senator Allee Pomerene will address a democratic meeting in this city next Tuesday night. He and former Congressman J. J. Whitacre will speak in Alliance on the night of Nov. 2.

Vote for Allen Shale for county commissioner.—adv.

VOTE FOR S. E. SLAGLE

The Good Roads and Country Candidate for County Commissioner

Mr. Slagle was born and raised in Mahoning County, and for the past 20 years was engaged in the sale of contractors' machinery and supplies. And all these years was in close touch with road improvements and other county business, which, together with his general training in business methods, fully qualifies him for the position of County Commissioner. Mr. Slagle positively asserts that over 25 per cent of the taxpayers' road tax money in this county is being wasted, paying for inferior road building in the northern and central part of the county. He insists now that all roads built should have a solid foundation of good material and thoroughly drained and all main roads surfaced with none but first-class road brick. In view of the above ideas and qualifications, we say vote for S. E. Slagle for County Commissioner.
